1. The Public Safety advisor to the Bonn Government and Chief of the Federal Criminal Police will be M. Hagemann, Chief of the Prussian State Criminal Police Administration until 1933. The Government agreed on this appointment on 10 November, but it will not be announced until plans are formulated for a Federal organization. Hagemann, who is approximately sixty-six years old, is a professional criminologist. He is not a party member today, but he formerly belonged to Gustav Stresemann's People's Party. Since 1945 he has been Professor of Criminal Law at Munster University and the Heltrup Police School.
